MAYOR'S MESSAGE

As Mayor of Penrith I always feel great pride in our City and our people and as we slowly edge closer towards the end of 2017, it is with a sense of achievement that I look back over the year.

Our parks and playgrounds across the City are looking great and the recently installed water parks are going to be in demand throughout summer. Council's Children's Services and the dedicated staff who deliver them continue to be recognised as exceptional.

Amid a background of major infrastructure programs including the Western Sydney Airport, upgrades to major roads, the delivery of the Greater Sydney Commission District Plan and negotiations on the Western City Deal, Council's voice in these projects will shape our City's future.

We continue to advocate for better commuter connections via a North South rail line and I'm pleased the message is being heard loud and clear by both State and Federal Governments. There is a lot more to do to make it a reality, but we remain committed to speaking up for the people of Penrith to improve employment opportunities as well as work/life balance.

Our tourism numbers are rapidly growing and we've become a destination for a wide range of major events. This year's REAL Festival was attended by more than 22,000 people and injected $2.5 million into the Penrith economy, and now has a permanent place on our annual events calendar.

I wish everyone a safe and happy festive season, and look forward to 2018. I hope to see you at our Australia Day celebrations at Jamison Park in January and our other community events right across the year.

Cr John Thain
Penrith City Mayor

PENRITH WINNING THE WAR ON WASTE

In the last 12 months alone, residents in the Penrith community have:

- composted 29,267 tonnes of food scraps, garden clippings and organic material
- recycled 18,331 tonnes of bottles, containers, cans, paper, cardboard, glass and cartons
- reduced the amount of waste going to landfill, keeping costs low
- collected 97 tonnes of hazardous household waste for responsible reuse or safe disposal, and
- recycled 80 tonnes of electronic waste.

We've also opened our brand new Community Recycling Centre in Dunheved Circuit, St Marys, which makes it easier to recycle problem household waste that can't go in your bin.

One of the most universal experiences we share as a community is putting our bins out on the nature strip each week, ready to be collected. But there is so much more to 'waste services' than organising the regular collections.

Council's Waste Services team works hard every day to improve services to residents, while balancing the rising cost of waste management and trying to reduce the amount of landfill Penrith generates.

Reducing the amount of waste we send to landfill is important. Reducing waste can save money, conserve resources, save energy and water, and reduce pollution.

That's what our 3 bin system aims to

Costa Georgiadis and Craig Reucassel engaged with locals about caring for the environment at this year's Real Festival at Tench Reserve do. Our green bins are almost unique in Sydney, as they can take food organics as well as garden organics (affectionately known as FOGO). This is one of the most important things we're doing to save money and help the environment.

The Australian Government estimates food waste costs the national economy $20 billion every year, with 4 million tonnes of food ending up as landfill (enough to fill 8,400 Olympic sized swimming pools). The contents of the average household bin is 35% food waste.

By having and correctly using our FOGO bins, we help reduce landfill, which in turn helps keep the cost of waste services lower, and contributes on a national level to the economy and environment.

The statistics are speaking for themselves and we're so proud of Council's waste strategy, our community and the team that supports them.

We know from the most recent audit of contamination rates (that's when we check to see if the right waste is in the right bin), that 9.5 out of 10 residents recycle correctly.

So here's to you, Penrith, for supporting us and supporting our environment – you really do have it sorted.

PENRITH

Thank you

We look forward to delivering Real Festival again next year and exceeding everyone's expectations with another world-class event in Penrith.

Each year Council holds an Environmental Photo Competition to celebrate Biodiversity Month and National Water Week, and highlight our City's unique and beautiful natural setting.

This year's competition theme was Water: The Heart of our Community.

Council received more than 120 entries, and every one captured the natural beauty and wonder of Penrith's waterways.

The competition had three categories; kids (under 12 years), youth (12-18 years) and open (over 18 years). The winners in each category showed exceptional talent behind the lens, and produced some stunning photos which the community enjoyed at the Real Festival in November.

The winners were honoured at an award ceremony on 1 November.

PRESCHOOLS ENROLLING FOR 2018

Did you know that 90% of a child's brain develops before the age of five? Ensuring our children get the right foundation at this critical age is vital for their future.

Recent studies have shown that children who participate in quality early childhood education are more likely to have the well-developed social, cognitive and emotional skills they need to engage in learning.

That's why Penrith Council's Children's Services is committed to providing the highest quality care and education for children through our preschool services.

Our preschool programs empower children to think, explore, question and learn how to learn. They offer the ideal preparation for schooling and establish a solid platform for life-long learning. They support language development, improve problem solving and reasoning skills, develop social and emotional maturity, help children relate well with others and allow them to gain independence, self-esteem and confidence.

Lucas, at Gumbirra Children's Centre, has benefited greatly from the preschool program. Over the last two years his mother has seen an immense improvement in his social, mental and emotional development. This is a testament to the exceptional quality and passion of the educators working at the centre. They work closely with Lucas and his classmates to provide a safe, caring and fun learning environment, which also incorporates the children's own interests, allowing them to excel in their personal endeavours.

Gumbirra is just one of our quality preschool services, and all of them have highly qualified staff, an inclusive and competitive fee, and provide well-rounded, innovative programs of education.

Our preschools are enrolling now for 2018 and Government subsidies are available to eligible families.

Get the best care and education for your child – call 4732 7844 to secure your spot, or visit penrithcity.nsw.gov.au/childcare to find out more about why you should choose a Council childcare centre.

WESTERN SYDNEY AIRPORT UPDATE

Tender opportunities and job vacancies are being advertised on WSA Co's website with tenders for geotechnical investigation and land survey services already released to market and more opportunities expected in the coming months.

Full WSA Co Board confirmed

The Government has appointed three further Directors to the Board of WSA Co, with Mr Vince Graham AM, Ms Anthea Hammon and Mr John Weber to join the Chair Mr Paul O'Sullivan and Directors Mrs Fiona Balfour, Mr Tim Eddy and Ms Christine Spring.

KEEPING YOUR COOL THIS SUMMER

As another summer arrives, there's one thing on all of our minds – how to stay cool as the mercury rises. At Council, that's something we plan for all year as we implement our City's Cooling the City Strategy to create a more liveable city and region.

Our work in this space is varied, and is designed to provide long-term relief from rising temperatures and scorching summers for everyone in our City, especially the most vulnerable among us.

One of the easiest and most important things we can do is plant more trees. Trees play a critical role in creating cooler neighbourhoods, and the right trees in the right places also improve property values – so they're a win-win for the community. Some of the work we've undertaken to improve tree coverage across our City includes:

- 96,000 trees and plants planted in South Penrith and 3,000 in Emu Plains
- 55,000 trees and plants planted in Mountain View Reserve in Cranebrook
- 5,300+ plants given away at community events and programs
- semi-mature trees planted at Council-owned childcare centres, and more planned for local sporting fields.

In addition to greening our city, we're also improving the way we design our urban environments, which includes things like:

- including a splashpad and increased shade cover as part of the upgrades to the Triangle Park in Penrith's CBD.
- adding a splashpad, shade sails, covered outdoor tables and seating, and additional tree planting to the Phoenix Reserve upgrades in Erskine Park
- including cooling features in the soon to be opened Jordan Springs Community Hub, including light coloured surfaces, geothermal heating and cooling, tree planting and smart architecture.

There are a range of things everyone can do at home to help you stay cool in summer, and we're committed to providing information, tips, workshops and opportunities for you to learn what's possible. We'll be promoting ways to stay cool over summer, but you can also get year-round updates on how to reduce your energy consumption and weather-proof your home with our Sustainability eNewsletter. Email andrew.hewson@penrith.city to sign up.
